Our school is a Church of England school in the Diocese of Leicester. You can find out more about the Diocese of Leicester through their website by clicking here. Or if you would like to find out about their specific work with schools click here

We have strong links to our local church of St Nicholas. The incumbent of the Parish of South Kilworth is Canon Christopher Oxley, who is a valuable member of our school's governing body. Canon Chris along with Reverend Jane Kennedy regularly lead collective worship at the school and church and also take part in the children's Religious Education. Parents are invited to worship alongside us on our church visits.

The following are some highlights from our latest SIAS Inspection Report;

“The school has a very strong Christian ethos and aims “to help pupils to develop within a happy and caring Christian community.”

“Pupils appreciate the encouragement to achieve high standards in their work and the opportunity to take part in many activities, outings and residential experiences.”

“Pupils say that collective worship is fun and that the teaching has an effect on their lives.
